Madison College to Hold 9-11 Remembrance Ceremony;
Students to Read Names of the Nearly 3,000 Victims

September 11, 2001...it's a day many of us will never forget.

At 10 a.m. on Friday, September 10, Madison Area Technical College will hold a special Remembrance Ceremony to honor the nearly 3,000 victims who were killed in the 9-11 terrorist attacks. The event is being sponsored by Madison College's Vets for Vets Club and the college's Volunteer Center.

The ceremony will include comments from Brigadier General Mark Anderson, Dane County Sheriff Dave Mahoney and Wisconsin Fire Chiefs Association Vice President Glenn Linzmeier.

Following the presentation, Madison College students will read the names of all the fallen law enforcement, firefighters, medical personnel and civilians who were killed in the 9-11 attacks.

The ceremony will be held at the Truax campus courtyard. The campus is located at 3550 Anderson Street in Madison.
